The Burning Way

Words and Music By Eric "elric911" Panopulos

From the upcoming album: 44Under30

Can't you see there's a storm brewing? Hail.
ALWays comes when the moon tips the scales.
Does it seem that Her Truth can be wrapped up in Lies?
Yes means no, and your smiles might just cry.

We're walking through, the Burning Way,
where mirrors reflect left to right.
We're walking through, the Burning Way,
there's NoThing to trust in your site.

Does it Sting like a knife at your back?
Chasing you toward the beautiful trap.
Does it feel like She takes all your words and twists?
All your plans seem like sand in your fists.

We're walking through, the Burning Way,
where mirrors reflect left to right.
We're walking through, the Burning Way,
there's NoThing to trust in your site.

Can't you see that the Moon's Burning? Part.
Hate in Her eyes and Love in her Heart.
Does hope that She brings turn cold at Zero Degrees?
To remind you the Day isn't yours to seize?

We're walking through, the Burning Way,
where mirrors reflect left to right.
We're walking through, the Burning Way,
there's NoThing to trust in your site.
